2015 Altamira

92 pts. “The 2015 2K, from an estate in Altamira that measured two kilometers, is a fixed blend year after year—mostly Malbec and 35% Cabernet Franc from the stonier part of the estate.

In this vintage they purchased a couple of 500-liter French oak barrels to mature the wine, but the impact of the new oak in the wine is unnoticeable, perhaps because of the natural freshness of the year.

The nose is clean and focused, with a subtle mixture of violets, wild berries and aromatic herbs, quite elegant and nuanced. The palate is medium to full-bodied with very juicy fruit, a velvety mouthfeel and the tasty, chalky tannins linked to the limestone-rich soils. 2,700 bottles were filled in October 2016, days before I tasted it, yet the wine was impeccable”

2km 2015 Altamira

This linear, well-balanced wine offers dark fruit, floral, and mineral aromas, with a bracing yet smoothly-textured palate. A wine of elegance and finesse, that is evocative of the Paraje Altamira terroir.

An ideal pairing for prime cuts of red meat and fire-grilled vegetables.
